

Dr. B.C. Rathi Memorial Medical Scholarship

Dr. B.C. Rathi

ABOUT:

Dr. B.C. Rathi was born in a family of farmers near Akola, Maharashtra.

His love for English newspapers helped him build a strong command over the language. So much was this farm-boy's dedication that his "Masterji" used to make him teach children far older than him.

He studied under street-lights and waited 2 years because of a fractured hand to finally complete his M.B.B.S degree from Nagpur Medical College. His fluency in English combined with his discipline and knowledge made him an instant favourite with his seniors and peers.

In a practise spanning 4 decades, Dr. Rathi treated countless patients, sometimes even free of cost, winning him "Fair Practise Award" from Indian Medical Association, Durg.

Staying true to his ethos, we are launching a medical scholarship in his name and taking his legacy forward.
